

RESPONSIVE DESIGN

Our prototype is designed to function and look appealing across a range of platforms. It will perform on all major desktop, mobile phone, and tablet browsers. Functionality and appearance was tested across devices and browsers at each iteration throughout the Usability Testing process. The business team incorporated suggestions and comments from our User Feedback Sessions in order to ensure that the prototype is user friendly for anyone, including people who may not be very familiar with technology or web applications. In adjusting our design for different devices, we were cognizant of when a user might be using a particular device—for example, a parent may rely on a desktop computer when doing extensive research on child care options, a case worker might need to access the phone number of a facility quickly on a mobile phone or tablet. Screenshots of our prototype across desktop, mobile phone, and tablet are included below.
